

Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 29 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:

Chilly, with overnight frost. Sunshine and showers Friday.

This Evening and Tonight:

Isolated showers will continue overnight, mainly affecting coastal districts. Intervening clearer skies will lead to another chilly night, with a widespread frost in rural areas. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Friday:

A day of sunshine and showers. The showers will be heavy locally, perhaps wintry too on the highest ground in the Peak District. Rather cool throughout, despite light winds. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:

Staying similar into the weekend: sunshine and showers by day, but remaining rather cool with overnight frosts. Becoming less cold, but perhaps breezier Monday, with heavy rain arriving.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.